OPENING UP THE AMOOR RIVER.

The last advices, says the S. F. Bulletin. from the Federal capital say, that Perry McD. Collins, Consular Agent at the Amoor River, Asiatic Russia, had arrived at Washington, and expected to sail in the course of a few days on his return thither. by way of St. Petersburg. It appears from his statements that American commerce at the Amoor is steadily increasing, several ships having sailed from the United States this year to participate in its rich trade. They have taken out assorted cargoes of of merchandise, including cotton goods, liquors, ship stores and chandlery, all kinds of hardware, machinery, steam engines, etc. There are now in the waters of the Amoor five steamers built in the United States. A Russian officer, Capt. Davandorff, at present in New York, is superir. tending the construction of steam engines and machinery to be placed in gun-boats, to be constructed on the Amoor, which is navigable for steamboats at least 2,500 miles. The climate is similar to North-west Canada, and the agricultural products about the same. The principal value of the country, as yet developed, is for its furs and mines; but when steam communication shall be fully when steam communication shall be fully established, the trade will be immense in other productions, and Siberia and Tartary will add their treasures to those of the Amoor country. From Moscow to the head of the Amoor, a distance of 4,000 miles, there are unwards of 500 cities, towns and villages. The Amoor Company this year sent to the Amoor river three or four vessels with 601 corresponding to the part of the Amoor street, with irresponding to the communication of the communication of the state of the Amoor country. From Moscow to the state of the communication of the sels with full cargoes, together with iron steamers, to initiate their projects, viz: to unite the mouth of the Amoor with Siberia by a regular line of steam packets. The recent ukase of the Emperor of Russia per-mitting Siberian exiles to emigrate to the Mitting Stopena exites to enligrate to the Amoor, is with a view of settling the shores of that river and developing the resources of the country. The construction of railroads is contemplated, and also, lines of telegraph, connecting with Moscow and other distant points. All these movements of the assant points. All these movements of the Russian government are regarded with great interest, as they cannot fail to open to American commerce a valuable market to many of our manufactures. Considering our diversified interest, including those of the large of the News December 2019. to many of our manufactures. Considering our diversified interest, including those of whall no fin the North Pacific and confice of whall no fin the North Pacific and conficulty to Silvaria and the Ansoor, the opinion is said to prevail at the the east that we should have a Consul General instead of a Consular officer of comparatively an insignificant grade, with an insufficient salary.

A Washington correspondent of a Balti-more paper says that Mr. Collins will pro-ceed from St. Petersburg through Siberia to the mouth of the Amoor. He is in fact the projector of the great enterprise for esthe projector of the great enterprise for establishing continuous telegraphic communication between Russia and the United States. He was the prime mover of the telegraphic enterprise through Siberia and the mouth of the Amoor. This line of telegraph is probably now completed as far as Norogood. The distance thence to the word of the Amoor of the Amor of the Amoor of mouth of the Amoor, and by way of Behring's straits and Russia and British America to San Francisco, is about 5,000 miles. Mr. Collins expects to complete arrangements whereby this line of telegraph will soon be made, with the aid of private enterprise and government securities. The tine has already been commenced from San Francisco to St. Louis, and this will be in operation by the time when the line to Russia, across the Straits shall be finished. The British American Company, which, at Mr. Collin's instance, has been incorpora-ted under the name of the Transmundane Telegraph Company will lend important aid in this great work.

The Hamburg Correspondent has the following from St. Petersburg, on the exploration of North-Eastern Asia, and the trade of Russia upon the Amoor: We are in-formed that another expedition to explore the territories of the Amoor is now being organized under the auspices of the Grand Duke Constantine. At the head of the expedition is M. Maninow, well known for having traveled on foot through all Russia in the costume of a working man, in order to study the condition of the peasantry. Several exploring parties have already left Irkutsch for the countries mentioned, but solely with a view to search for the gold placers said to exist there. Some of the explorers have found rich mines near the source of the Seja, but not easily worked, as they are covered with a stratum of peat of immense thickness. It is not without interest for the China trade to learn that the western provinces of that Empire now send caravans of Semipoletinsk, so that Kiatcha no longer enjoys the monoply of the tea trade. The caravans from Central Asia generally take two routes; some go towards Siberia, by Semipoletinsk and Petrohauwtosk, and the others towards Orenburg by Tropzk. The favor accorded to the Asiatics of passing the Russian frontier without passports from their own govern-ment, and the reduction of customs duties have had a most beneficial effect on the

FROM FRASER .- The Eliza Anderson arrived on Wednesday with 75 passengers, and Sehr Henrietta from Port Douglas direct with 35 passengers. The Anderson not arriving at Westminister at the time expected the Gov. Douglas, Capt. Murrey, started down; but anchored over night in Plumper's Pass, where she met the Anderson, and put her passengers on board and returned back. Jeffray, Expressman, came down. The Col. Moody had been frozen in two days at Sumas. The river was full of ice, which rendered traveling extremely dangerous. Two men were drowned near Six-Tree Bend, through their cance being blocked in the ice. Other parties are reported drowned. Among the number Mr. A. C. Elliott Barrister at law. ESQUIMALT ROAD.

ESQUIMALT, Nov. 14th, 1859. EDITOR BRITISH COLONIST :- Will you be good enough to draw the attention of the public, and particularly the attention of the Governor, to the state of the road between Esquimalt and Victoria? There was a fund of £600 voted in '58, and only £250 expended (a portion of which is kept to erect a pedestal to a statue of the Colonial Surveyor, he having most wisely cut off the crown of a hill).

The bridges are in a most fearful and dangerous state. Why are there no road overseers appointed by the government to superintend the works necessary to the roads? I am credibly informed the ballance of the money voted for the repairs of the Esquimalt road by the House of Assembly has vanished, and no one is accountable for it! I am very sorry to be obliged to write you on this matter, but it obliged to write you on this matter, but it becomes really the duty of every person on this Island to have the money found and the road improved. I was told only today, that the merchants of Victoria paid as much per ton for goods brought from Esquimalt to Victoria by the road, as the freight from San Francisco to this port. Can Governor Douglas have the interest of this Colony at heart, and allow this state of things to continue? VIATOR.

The United States Government is doing all that it can to make amends for Gen. Harney's unwarrantable seizure of San Juan. It is not only withdrawing the troops, but has proposed to leave a company on the island, two-thirds of whom are Irish, and the Commander English.

The trees on the streets were sold to Mr. Cavanagh for $1,50 per cord. He re ceived a paper authorizing the cutting, and indemnifying him against damages, signed by Dr. Tuzo, in behalf of the Hudson's Bay

The Eliza Anderson towed the hull of the steamer Caledonia into the harbor on Wednesday evening from Esquimalt. All her upper works are smashed to pieces.

We are indebted to J. W. Sullivan, News Agent, San Francisco, for files of Atlantie exchanges--To Well's Fargo & Co. for late Puget Sound and Oregon papers.

From the Police Report, there are now in jail 20 prisoners, and 1 insane; and out on bail 12.

Thos. Gorry has been arrested by Justice Pemberton for cutting down the trees in the streets.
